

Name of the Practice: Personality Development course

Objectives-

1. To enhance the communication skill of B.Ed students.
2. To improve the English speaking skill of the students.
3. To provide an opportunity for an overall grooming in the personality of the students.
4. To help the students to prepare for different interviews in the race of job searching.
5. To improve overall confidence of the students.

The context-

From the past observation and experience of the college it has been seen that students of education are unable to crack the job offers from the good school though they are laborious, honest and carries knowledge. So to help them in this area college has developed a short-term personality development course for the fourth semester students of B.Ed. Students of department of education in this college face problems in spoken English . Many of them feel shy in public speaking and lack confidence.

The practice-

Pallotti college organizations personality development course for B.Ed . 4th semester students every year. The course includes units like spoken English, interview skill , CV making ,body language ,communication skill ,etc. The skill is taught and drilled through various activities .At last a mock interview is organized for the students .The course is successfully accomplished every year. It is a step taken ahead for the benefit of students.

The whole program does not end here .Feedback is taken from the students,. In the last phase after mock interview students are sent for a conversation or interview taking to different teachers in the college. Teachers , in their part, then give feedback to each student.

This helps students a lot. Students of 4th semester appear for interviews in different schools. There this personality development classes serves to be a boon.

Problems encountered-

1. To crack the sinus of the students takes time.
2. Teacher student ratio is very large
3. Therefore all the students are not benefitted equally.
